Poems by Shel Silverstein
Mark the stresses. Read aloud.
How Many, How Much

How many slams in an old screen door?

Depends how loud you slam it.

How many slices in a loaf of bread?

Depends how thin you cut it.

How much good inside a day?

Depends how good you live 'em.

How much love inside a friend?

Depends how much you give 'em.

Ations

If we meet and I say, "Hi,"

That's a salutation.

If you ask me how I feel,

That's consideration.

If we stop and talk a while,

That's a conversation.

If we understand each other,

That's communication.

If we argue, scream and fight,

That's an altercation.

If later we apologize,

That's reconciliation.

If we help each other home,

That's cooperation.

And all these ations added up

Make civilization.

(And if I say this is a wonderful poem,

Is that exaggeration?)

Short Story 1 - Practice reading aloud.

This is Story 1 from the website <http://www.rong-chang.com/qa2/>

Sara Smith, a Pasadena resident, went shopping. She is 30, and has lived at 3037 N. Foothill Street since 1992. Sara has been married to John for seven years. They have two children; Zeke is five years old and Nancy is three. Sara owns a 1995 four-door blue Toyota. At 9 a.m., Sara got into her car and drove to Target, a department store a mile away.

Target was having a holiday sale. Sara bought a four-slice toaster for $29.95 plus tax. The regular price was $39.95. She paid by check. On her way home, Sara stopped at MilkPlus to buy a gallon of nonfat milk. The milk was $3.50. Sara got 50 cents back in change.

Sara arrived home at 10 a.m. John and the kids were still sleeping. She woke them up and then made a hot and nutritious breakfast for everyone.

Speaking Homework: Drinking and Health Risks

People often lift a glass to toast good health. Drinking may indeed lower the risk of several diseases, according to some interesting statistics released by the Harvard School of Public Health. Researchers found that up to one to two drinks each day diminished the risk of heart attack, stroke, and fatal heart disease by about twenty-six percent in men and up to fifty percent in women. One researcher warned, however, that women with a family history of breast cancer should limit drinking because alcohol is linked to a higher risk of breast cancer.
